Reproductive Technology and IVF Financing

Advanced Reproductive Care, Inc. (ARC)

In partnership with Advanced Reproductive Care, Inc. (ARC), IVF financing at SCRC includes the ARC Fertility Program as an independent financing option. The program provides financial options that have been formulated specifically to match the projected needs of your specific course of treatment, including all aspects of medical, lab, surgical, and pharmaceutical care.

Based on the highest standards of fertility care recommended by our fertility specialists, ARC Fertility financing has been developed with a proven track record that has helped many of our patients build their families with appropriate financial control over the fertility process.

Please see currently offered ARC options below:

Flexible Care Option™

The Flexible Care Option™ is a very special IVF financing plan that allows the most flexibility for our patients. Based on your specific fertility treatment – and the corresponding service fees discussed with your Financial Counselor – the Flexible Care Option allows you to decide on the dollar amount for which you wish to apply, as well as a payment plan catered to your comfort level.

The ARC Pharmacy Plan™

In addition to medical treatments, the cost of fertility drugs and other associated medicines can be a prohibitive factor as you make decisions about your desired treatment plan. The ARC Pharmacy Plan™ controls the high cost of medications and was developed to assist patients with finding affordable IVF financing solutions in California. This plan is offered through MDR Pharmaceutical Care, a leading pharmaceutical company. They offer express home delivery service at no additional charge and provide phone consultation with pharmacists who specialize in fertility therapies.

FAQ's on IVF Financing Options

What is IVF financing?

IVF financing is the ability to receive financial assistance from the highest regarded financial organizations in our network.

How much does IVF cost?

IVF costs can vary greatly depending on our physicians' customized protocol for each patient. Depending on what kind of IVF treatment plan the physician is recommending, an IVF cycle can range anywhere between $12,000 and $18,000. Optional embryology services such as genetic testing and ICSI are an extra cost. Medications are also separate, and can range between $4,000-$6,000.

Does financing cover fertility medication?

Yes, there are financing companies such as ARC Fertility and CapexMD that can finance your medications through the pharmacies they're affiliated with.

What other payment options do I have? Do you accept insurance?

We accept cash, check and credit card. We are contracted with specific insurance providers; however, please note that infertility benefits are needed in order to bill your insurance for any infertility treatments within our practice.
